The Company's Monitoring & Managed Services provides monitoring services to residential clients. These services include alarm and video monitoring, analytics, verification, and electronic building management. The Company utilizes its Avante Control Centre ("ACC") in Toronto as the central hub for monitoring, dispatch and response. The ACC operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Our monitoring services are provided through multiple channels using various technologies and equipment. Architects and builders use the services to view project progress from remote locations and homeowners station operators can view sites when alarm signals are received.

Alarm signals are communicated simultaneously through traditional landline facilities to primary response centres and wirelessly to the ACC. The primary response centres are operated by ULC (Underwriters Laboratories of Canada) approved third parties. The ULC is an independent, non-profit standards development organization for product safety testing, certification and inspection.

Avante Security's Dual Monitoring service provides both traditional ULC Digital Monitoring and real-time wireless Smartboxx monitoring. Both signals are received at our ACC, which has the superior benefit of wireless "anytime anyplace" communication, allowing immediate response to an alarm signal. Avante Security's response vehicles for Toronto-customer locations physically arrive at the clients' premises, typically, within six minutes on average.

The monitoring function is provided by physical on-site inspections and can also be monitored remotely via CCTV and web-cameras. CCTV systems are installed to monitor multiple locations concurrently and to provide a visual record in the event of an incident. Some clients also choose to pay for advanced analytics services utilizing artificial intelligence to detect unusual activity based on the CCTV live feeds sent to the ACC. The Company has achieved revenues of $1.5 million for the three-month period ended September 30, 2025, compared to $1.4 million for the same period in the prior fiscal year.

RECONCILIATION OF NON-IFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS MEASURES

This MD&A includes certain measures which have not been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards such as EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Operating expenses as a percentage of revenue, and recurring monthly revenue, or RMR. These non-IFRS Accounting Standards measures are not recognized under IFRS Accounting Standards and, accordingly, users are cautioned that these measures should not be construed as alternatives to net income, revenue or operating expenses (as applicable) determined in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards. The non-IFRS Accounting Standards measures presented are unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers. Reconciliation to the most directly comparable IFRS Accounting Standards measure in respect of both RMR and direct or adjusted operating expenses as a percent of revenue is provided earlier in this MD&A and provided below in respect of EBITDA and Adusted EBITDA.

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA

The Company defines EBITDA as earnings before depreciation and amortization, interest expense, and income tax expense (recovery). Adjusted EBITDA is defined as EBITDA before acquisition and restructuring costs, write-offs and impairments, stock based compensation expense and changes in fair value adjustments.. These items are excluded in calculating Adjusted EBITDA as they are not considered indicative of the underlying business performance for the periods being reviewed and the Company's management believes that excluding these adjustments is more reflective of ongoing operating results.

The Company believes that Adjusted EBITDA is a meaningful financial metric, as it measures cash generated from operations which the Company can use to fund working capital requirements, service interest, maintenance capital expenditures and principal debt repayments and to fund future growth initiatives. The calculation of EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA over each of the last eight fiscal quarters is provided below:

The above adjustment excludes cash settled compensation plans.

- Reorganization and acquisition costs – The Company incurred reorganization and acquisition costs in the amount of $nil million for the three-month and six- period ended September 30, 2025 (six-month period ended September 30, 2024: $0.72 million).

RISK AND UNCERTAINTIES

The Company operates in a dynamic, rapidly changing environment that involves risks and uncertainties. An investment in the Company's common shares is speculative and involves a high degree of risk and uncertainty. Such risks relate to and include, without limitation: its ability to predict whether it will meet internal or external expectations, its ability to offer competitive pricing for its products, its ability to maintain its current relationships and develop new strategic relationships, its ability to attract and retain qualified employees, its internal controls, its ability to develop and deploy new technology, its limited operating history, its evolving business model and its ability to achieve and maintain profitable operations.

Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also impair our business operations and these additional risks are summarized below. If any of the risks as described in our filings occur, our business, financial condition, liquidity or results of operations could be materially harmed.

Significant Shareholders

There are significant shareholders of the Company that may be long-term holders of the common shares in the Company. This has the effect of reducing the actively traded public float for the common shares, which may, in turn, impact the liquidity for the shares. In addition, relatively low liquidity may adversely affect the price at which the common shares of the Company trade on the listed market. Significant shareholders may also be able to exercise significant influence over any matter requiring shareholder approval in the future.

Risk of Dilution from Possible Future Offerings

The Company may issue additional securities or debt financing from time-to-time in the future to raise funding for its growth initiatives and such issuances may be dilutive to shareholders.

Financing and Refinancing Risks

Additional funding might be required to execute future investment and growth opportunities and to refinance existing borrowings that may exist in the future and working capital requirements. There is no assurance that such funds will be available to the Company, on acceptable terms or in required amounts. Any limitations on the Company's ability to access the financial markets for additional funds could have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to execute its growth strategy and to refinance existing indebtedness.

Ability to Achieve and Manage Growth

The Company has made or entered into, and will likely continue to pursue, various acquisitions, business combinations, investments and joint ventures intended to complement or expand its business. The Company believes the acquisitions of, and investments in, other businesses may enhance its strategy of building its security services business. The successful implementation of such acquisition and investment strategy depends on the Company's ability to identify suitable acquisition and investment candidates, acquire such companies on acceptable terms, integrate the acquired companies' operations and technologies successfully with its own and maintain the goodwill of the acquired businesses. The Company is unable to predict whether or when it will be able to identify suitable additional acquisition or investment candidates that are available for a suitable price, or the likelihood that any potential acquisition or investment will be completed.

Growth and expansion resulting from future acquisitions may place significant demands on the Company's management resources. In addition, while the Company's management believes it has the experience and know-how to integrate acquisitions, such efforts entail significant risks including, but not limited to: (a) failure to integrate successfully the personnel, information systems, technology, operations and acquired business; (b) the potential loss of key employees or customers from either the Company's current business or the business acquired; (c) failure to maximize the potential financial and strategic benefits of the transaction; (d) the failure to realize the expected synergies from the acquired businesses; (e) impairment of goodwill; (f) the assumption of significant and or unknown liabilities of the acquired companies; and (g) the diversion of the Company's management time and resources.

There can be no assurances that the Company will be able to successfully identify, consummate or integrate any potential acquisitions or investments into its operations. In addition, future acquisitions or investments may result in potentially dilutive issuance of equity securities, have a negative effect on the Company's share price, and/or may result in the incurrence of debt, all of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operation.

Market Competition and Technology Innovation

The Company operates in a highly competitive sector and in a sector witnessing significant technological innovation. To address these risks, the Company's management has implemented a plan to concentrate on providing service excellence to its existing clientele, while focusing on implementing new technologies to provide enhanced levels security and related solutions for the Company's clients.

Key Personnel

The Company's success depends largely on the continued services of its senior management team, and the Company's ability to attract and retain skilled employees. The Company must continue to retain highly efficient and high performing individuals as well as continue to enhance its operational and management systems. Most importantly, the Company must continue to attract, train, motivate and manage its employees. If the Company is not successful in these aspects, it may have material adverse effects on the Company's business, results of operations, cash flow and financial condition.

Government Regulations and Licensing

The Company's Canadian operations are regulated by the Province of Ontario and applicable Municipal governments. The Company's international operations (NSSG) are regulated by the Romanian Government. These regulations affect Taxes, Labour, Workplace Safety, the environment, and all other aspects that can impact the Company's operations and performance. The Company is required to obtain and maintain a security license within the Province of Ontario. Any failure to obtain, maintain or renew required licenses could result in the cancelation of certain contracts and or disqualify us from bidding or re-bidding on certain contracts. To date, no government regulations or licensing requirements have materially and negatively affected the Company.

Information Technology Systems

The Company is dependent on its information technology ("IT") infrastructure. Significant problems with the Company's infrastructure, such as telephone or IT systems failures, cyber security breaches, or failure to develop new technology platforms could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operation and cash flow of the Company.

Attrition of Accounts

Customer attrition of residential customers results from a variety of different factors, including relocation of subscribers, competition, and other socio-economic factors. Demographic factors will also have an impact on overall attrition levels. Any significant increase in the Company's attrition rates, or loss of customer contracts, could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, or results of operations.

Credit Risk

The Company sells the majority of its services within Ontario, Canada and a significant portion of its revenues are generated on a contractual basis pursuant to agreed payment terms. Due to the large number of residential clients that the Company deals with, and their economic distribution, the credit risk concentration to which the Company is exposed remains limited. However, inaccurate invoicing by the Company or failure to pay by customers could have a material adverse effect on the Company's cash flow and financial condition.

Reputational Risk

The Company depends on its reputation for high quality security services to be successful. Damage to the Company's reputation caused by a widely publicised security incident affecting the Company's clients and their installations could affect our reputation. The Company's management team constantly monitors security risk surrounding the Company's operations and the Company has instituted communication protocols to prevent or reduce negative publicity.

Inflationary Risk

Strong economic conditions and competition for available personnel and materials may result in significant increases in the cost of obtaining such resources. More recently, the Ontario economy has been exposed to inflationary pressures including, for example, with respect to labour costs and fuel prices. To the greatest extent possible, the Company passes such cost increases on to its customers and it attempts to reduce these pressures through proactive procurement and human resource practices. Should these efforts not be successful, the gross margin and profitability of the Company could be adversely affected.

Foreign Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that a variation in exchange rates between the Canadian dollar and other foreign currencies affect the Company's operations and financial results.

The Company is exposed to foreign currency risk on revenue and expenses where it invoices or procures in a foreign currency. It is also exposed to foreign currency risk on cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables and trade payables denominated in foreign currencies, principally in US dollars, Euros and RON.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS

Financial instruments of the Company consist of cash, investments in guaranteed investment certificates, accounts receivable, amounts due from the purchaser of Logixx Security, accounts payable, put option liability, bank indebtedness and accrued liabilities and obligations under finance leases. There are no significant differences between the carrying amounts of the items reported on the balance sheet and their estimated fair values other than as set out in Note 19(c) "Liquidity Risk" of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto as at and for the years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024.

The Company may undertake purchase transactions in foreign currencies, and therefore it is subject to foreign exchange risk of gains or losses due to fluctuations in foreign currencies. Historically, these transactions have not been material, so the Company does not use hedging instruments to minimize its exposure to foreign currency risks.

For additional details on the Company's financial instruments, including the amount and classification of gains and losses recorded in the Company's audited consolidated financial statements, summary of fair values, notional balances, effective rates and terms, and significant assumptions used in each calculation of the fair value of the Company's financial instruments, refer to Liquidity and Capital Resources in this MD&A and see Notes to the Company's audited consolidated financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS Accounting Standards requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual outcomes could differ from these estimates. The financial statements include estimates which, by their nature, are uncertain. These estimates involve considerable judgement and are, or could be, affected by significant factors that are out of the Company's control or the control of the Company's management. The impacts of such estimates are pervasive throughout the financial statements and may require accounting adjustments based on future occurrences. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimate is revised, and the revision affects both current and future periods.

Critical accounting estimates used in the preparation of the audited consolidated financial statements include the Company's estimate of the value of the Company's share-based compensation, determining whether the Company exercises control over entities in order to consolidate, provision for obsolescence of inventory, estimates of work in progress, depreciation of property, plant and equipment, amortization of intangible assets, allowance for doubtful accounts, amounts recoverable from vendors of companies acquired, amounts recoverable from purchasers of businesses sold by the Company and recoverability of tax credits. These estimates are based on the Company's management's best judgement and could be affected by significant factors that are out of the Company's control. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Future events and risk factors could result in changes in these estimates and assumptions.

The Company uses the Black-Scholes model to determine the fair value of options. The main factor affecting such estimates is the stock price volatility used. The Company uses historical price data and comparable entities in the estimate of future volatilities. Additional factors affecting share-based compensation include estimates of when stock options might be exercised. The timing of the exercise of options is out of the Company's control and will depend upon a variety of factors, including the market value of the Company's shares and the financial objectives of the share-based instrument holders.

With respect to intangible assets, the Company determines fair values using such estimates as discount rates, capitalization rates and terminal capitalization rates. These estimates consider any material changes to the assumptions that occur when reviewed regularly by the Company's management. Estimates are reviewed periodically by the Company's management. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested for impairment on an annual basis or more frequently if there are indicators that goodwill may be impaired as described in the Impairment of Non-Financial Assets policy.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company's accounting policies are as disclosed in Note 3 of the Company's audited annual consolidated financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2025, and 2024. Effective April 1, 2024, the Company changed its policy relating to the accounting for the NCI put option that arose during fiscal 2024 upon the acquisition of NSSG (Note 12). Previously, the NCI put option was considered a derivative over the Company's own equity and measured at fair value through profit and loss. The NCI put option is now accounted for as a financial liability measured as a gross obligation at the amount equal to the present value of the amount that could be required to be paid to the counter party in accordance with IAS 32 - Financial Instruments Presentation ("IAS 32"). Subsequent changes in the measurement of the gross obligation due to the unwinding of the discount or changes in the amount that the acquiror could be required to pay are recognized in profit or loss.

Management believes that the change in accounting policy results in more relevant and reliable information in light of existing interpretative guidance relating to IAS 32. The change in accounting policy was applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented.

New Standards and Interpretations

The IASB has issued the following standards, amendments and interpretations which have not been early adopted in the consolidated financial statements (and the Company is assessing the impact on its consolidated financial statements as a result of adopting these new standards):

Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements:

In April 2024, the IASB issued the new standard IFRS 18 – Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements that will replace IAS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements. The new standard introduces newly defined subtotals on the income statement, requirements for aggregation and disaggregation of information, and disclosure of Management Performance Measures ("MPMs") in the financial statements. The new standard is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, with early adoption permitted. The Company is assessing the impacts to the financial statements.

Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments:

In May 2024, the IASB issued amendments to IFRS 9 – Financial Instruments and IFRS 7 – Financial Instruments: Disclosures. The amendments relate to settling financial liabilities using an electronic payment system and assessing contractual cash flow characteristics of financial assets, including those with Environmental, Social, and Governance ("ESG")-linked features. The IASB also amended disclosure requirements relating to investments in equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI") and added disclosure requirements for financial instruments with contingent features. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026, with early adoption permitted. The Company is assessing the impacts to the financial statements.

CONTINGENCIES

From time to time, the Company may become liable for legal, contractual, and other claims by various parties, including customers, suppliers, former employees, and vendors of businesses acquired by the Company. Depending on the nature or duration of any potential proceedings or claims, the Company may incur substantial costs and expenses, be required to devote significant management time and resources to the matters and suffer adverse judgements or outcomes in respect of these claims, although it is difficult to predict final outcomes with any degree of certainty. Except as disclosed from time to time in the Company's annual or interim consolidated financial statements, the Company does not believe that any of the claims to which the Company is currently a party will have a material adverse effect on the Company's profitability or financial condition; however, the Company cannot provide any assurance to that effect.
